

CONFIDENTE

BY MARY GOSTELOW

MAISSEN'S MAISON

Hansjorg Maissen ruled the French Riviera when he ran the Grand-Hotel du Cap-Ferrat, and then he went on to be king of New Orleans at the Windsor Court. He has now reappeared, as ranch master of some 2,000 acres in Tombstone AZ. Working for Zurich-based financier Thomas Bachmann, he is developing a 140-room resort, Bachmann Springs, set to open next year. The Tom Fazio golf course is already under way, and other activities—both possibly led by Maissen personally—promise to be horseback riding and riding Harleys, of which the maestro has two in his personal stable.
